

AGED MAN SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN STRUCK BY CAR AS HE CROSSES STREET HERE; SEVERAL OTHERS HURT IN PRE-HOLIDAY ACCIDENTS IN AREA; CARS DAMAGED

James A. Clardy, 75, in Hospital With Brain Concussion—Two Cars Hit Head-On on Route 13 at Eddington — Hit-Run Case Occurs Early This Morning

A number of automobile accidents occurred at the start of the holiday week-end, resulting in one aged man being injured in Bristol; while in a number of accidents in the suburban area considerable damage was caused to property, and some injuries listed.

An aged man was struck and seriously injured at Pond and Washington streets early this morning. James A. Clardy, 75, of 341 Washington street, is in Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, where he was taken by Bucks County Rescue Squad. On police reports his injuries are given as "undetermined," but consisting of possible brain concussion, fractured right arm, laceration of the scalp, and abrasions of right leg.

The operator of the car is listed as Leon A. Clark, 19, of 95 Ferrier avenue, Trenton, N. J. The accident occurred at 1.45 this morning. Clark told police he was driving east on Pond street, slowed down for the traffic light on Washington street which changed from red to green as he approached it. He said he shifted into second gear, and said his speed was 15 to 20 miles per hour when the accident occurred.

Clardy was crossing Pond street from the northeast corner of Washington street.

Mr. Clardy is an employee of Thomas L. Leedom Company.

Members of his family state that X-rays are to be taken today to determine full extent of injuries.

At 5.20 last evening a car operated by William Reed, 34, Bristol Terrace II, travelling east on Route 13, Eddington, is said by police to have shot across the highway and struck the car operated by James Hamilton, Bristol Pike, Cornwells Heights, head-on. There were no injuries, but damage to the cars was extensive. Reed was examined by a Bristol physician and lodged in Bristol municipal building.

A hit-run case was investigated by state police at Langhorne barracks at 12.45 this morning. One-half mile north of Langhorne, in Middletown township, George L. Manning, of 140 E. Maple avenue, Langhorne, was travelling south on Route 413 in his sedan, when it is said that another driver struck his car, causing the Manning machine to hit a utility pole. The driver of the second car continued on, according to the police report. Manning's wife, Marian, and five-year-old son George, were unhurt, it is said. Damage to their car is listed at $150.

A one-car accident occurred at the dead-end of the super-highway east of Langhorne at 4.10 this morning. The operator, Anthony L. Mancini, 24, of 6501 Utah street, Philadelphia, was admitted to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, N. J., with possible internal injuries, lacerations of the chin and severe concussion, and possibly other injuries. He was alone at the time. Damage to his machine is $300.

At 6.45 yesterday morning on Route 13, Wheatshaf, John Chase, 43, of Tullytown, and William Martin, 18, of Newark, N. J., an employee of Starkey Farms, were involved in a crash. The Chase machine was stopped at the time, claim state police, it being headed west, and being partly on the highway. Chase was cleaning the windshield in the fog, it is said. The car of Martin is said to have hit the rear of the Chase machine. Occupants of the Martin machine treated at Harriman Hospital are: George Rogers, 36, bruised right knee, cut over right eye; Ruth Staton, 22, bruised left side; Frazer Lee Smith, 21, cut over right eye and on nose. All are Starkey employees.

TALENT SHOW OPENS YOUTH PROGRAM TODAY

Eight Participants Vie For Prizes at The Grand Theatre

"MOVIES" ARE SHOWN

The final day of Youth Week opened this morning with bright, sun-shiny weather. The first thing on the program was the talent show at the Grand Theatre, which got underway promptly at 9.30. Then came free "movies," furnished by Edward Lynn, manager of the Grand Theatre, who also donated use of the theatre free of charge. During the first hour of the morning program approximately 700 children were at the theatre. The parade will start at 1.30 this afternoon, and will conclude with the serving of refreshments for the participants and the awarding of prizes to winners of contests held during the week. This will take place on Leedom's field.

For the talent show, Mr. Lynn announced the following numbers: Gerald McDevitt, trumpet solo; Donald Pappaterra, tap dance; Walter Pfender, piano solo; Patricia Phipps, toe tap; Anthony Valtimo, Jr., accordion selection; Eleanor Scheetz, piano number; Rosemary Bonner, Irish jig; Regina Lawrence, baton twirling. The winners were to be selected by judges rather than by applause, the winners to be announced at Leedom's field this afternoon. Following the talent contest there was an exhibition of baton twirling by a group of five.

When the youngsters conclude their monstrous Youth Week Parade at Leedom's field this afternoon they've a real food treat in store for them, according to Steve Midouhas, chairman of the food procurement committee for the Chamber of Commerce's Youth Week Program.

"Sandwiches, ice cream and soda will be issued free to an anticipated crowd of several thousand boys and girls," Midouhas said, and through the efforts of my committee, much of this food material has been graciously donated.

"Through the work of one member of my committee, Gus Passanante, we have been able to have all the lunch meats donated by several meat packing concerns, the Harriman Food Center, and Farrugio's Express," Midouhas pointed out.

"We were also fortunate in having the bread donated for the sandwiches by baking concerns," the chairman reported.

"I would, also, like to single out another member of my committee, Fred Leyden, who has done an outstanding job in coordinating this part of the program. Mr. Leyden has really been the sparkplug of every detail and has worked untiringly in this connection."

"Others who have been assisting my committee include: The Catholic Daughters of St. Mark's School; the mothers and high school girls from Bristol High School; St. Ann's Society and High school girls; members of the Junior Chorus; and the Young Bristol Residents."

Private Thomas J. Montervino, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Montervino, 505 Jefferson ave., is presently assigned to Company B, 5th Engineer Combat Battalion Fort Lewis, Washington.

Montervino, entered the service, Sept. 1949 and received his basic in Fort Dix, New Jersey, after which he came to B company of 5th Engr. Prior to entering the service, Montervino was an A & P clerk. Montervino attended the Bristol High School and was a member of the football squad.

DISCUSSES PLACE OF PRIMARIES IN U. S. POLITICS; REPUBLICAN WOMEN ASSEMBLE

SOUTHAMPTON, May 27—With members of Bucks County Council of Republican Women assembled in the local fire station, on Thursday, the place of the open primary in American politics, and the contribution which women have made to politics were given emphasis. At this spring session, domestic and foreign policies, as viewed by Republican representatives in Congress were under discussion.

Mrs. Henry M. Woolman, Valley Forge, who has headed women's divisions in numerous Republican campaigns; and Albert C. Vaughn, Fullerton, candidate for Congress in the Bucks-Lehigh district, were two of the speakers. Welcome was by Mrs. Norman W. Lear, Doylestown.

"The question has arisen about the desirability of the open primary," Mrs. Woolman said. "Even after the latest example of a bitter—and in many ways, unfortunate contest—I still believe that open primaries are necessary for the preservation of democracy."

Mrs. Woolman said that two words become quite disturbing and annoying to the independent voter. "One is 'organization' and the second is 'smoke-filled rooms'."

"Let us be realistic in our political life. Organization is necessary to political parties, just as it is necessary to PTA's, the church, social and civic clubs."

"When you choose your officers and plan your projects, you are doing political work under another name. Nearly everything has its price, not necessarily in money, but in the desire to further the aims of individual groups. Party organizers are mostly sincere, hard workers. There are some examples, of course, of the wrong kind."

The fiscal policy of the nation, the foreign policy, the agricultural program, subsidies in general and the tax problem were briefly discussed by Mr. Vaughn. "Regarding the fiscal policy, I favor a sound one, because I feel that all other issues are dependent on the solvency of the nation if we are to maintain world leadership which we assumed at the close of World War 2," the Republican candidate declared.

"Therefore to remain solvent it is paramount that deficit-spending be stopped at once and the budget be balanced at the earliest date. If the 80th Congress balanced the budget there is no reason that succeeding Congresses cannot do it."

The speaker said that domestic expenditures must be reduced.

MILD WINTER — MORE BIGS

The mild winter of 1950 was apparently not a blessing to the farmers. By saving the lives of insect pests it has added to the plagues which have been increasing steadily since 1945. The U. S. Department of Agriculture gloomily predicts that the damage this year may be double the billion-dollar damage of last year. A loss of $2,000,000,000 would be approximately six per cent of the total farm income.

The government is faced with surpluses it doesn't know what to do with—but nobody wants the bugs to do the cutting down on what goes to market. The department has seen the bugs more than keep pace with the new insecticides. It can only urge more use of them than ever before, under proper guidance.

What are the chief insect scourges? Grasshoppers in the West did damage totaling $27,000,000 last year despite the use of 13,500,000 tons of poison. The poison cost more than the damage, but it would have been far greater had no poison been used.

The corn borer now hits corn to the extent of $350,000,000, or nearly 10 times the damage in 1945. Old Mr. Boll Weevil, the villain of southern folk ballads, is three times as destructive as he was five years ago. The 1949 damage was $470,000,000. And so it goes to a lesser extent with the fruit and vegetable pests.

The experts think maybe the country is in a 10-year cycle of high living for the insect world. In times of surplus it can stand these depredations a lot better than it could in times of scarcity from drought or other causes.

DOOMED CITIES

The great cities of America are pointed toward a decline. Take the word of the American Institute of Architects for it. They have accepted a new concept of urban planning and are selling government officials on it. It is based on the thesis that further efforts to expand metropolitan centers are doomed to failure because such expansion would add to the discomfort, costly congestion and complexities of life.

In place of these great masses of steel and stone, the architects envision broad regions consisting of clusters of neighboring, but separate, small towns. These would be capable, through cooperative action, of providing the facilities and cultural attractions hitherto associated only with large wealthy cities. Ideal size of such separate but integrated towns, it is suggested, would be 20,000 to 50,000.

The architects have something there. Planning experts have long diagnosed great cities as cancerous growth, sending corrupt and immoral tentacles out across the country. It is demonstrated that America has declined in mortality and healthy civic consciousness as its cities have grown into teeming and festering cesspools.

But years will be required to break cities up into smaller and healthier parts.

through the elimination of all unnecessary functions and duplications of government services, until national security is assured and world peace is an accomplished fact. "Until we balance the budget and establish a sound fiscal policy, it will be better, in my opinion, that we postpone certain public works and welfare programs," Vaughn said.

car owned by Rose Ganey, Chalfont, R. D., testified his car stalled April 14 near a Bristol diner.

"I asked some young fellows to give the car a push and they did, and Lawyer, who was among them, but I didn't know him, asked for a hop to Newportville.

"The car stalled again and when I got out to lift up the hood and look at the motor the defendant hit me over the head with a piece of iron pipe, signalled for a motorist to give him a push and drove off with the car," Wilson testified.

A New Jersey State Police Trooper, Joseph J. Shalski, apprehended the defendant and the car near Somerville, N. J., where it had stalled again. The youth had no operator's or owner's cards and said he was going to Manhattan to look up a friend whose name he didn't know.

Mrs. Ganey said the car, which hasn't been recovered, was valued at $250.

Lawyer testified that he had been drinking and didn't remember a thing and if he did what they said he was "very sorry."

By Frances Vannoy
Home Economics Extension Rep.
Your working habits, the condition of your equipment and how you use it account for a large number of the accidents in the kitchen. To cut down on the number of these accidents, it would be wise for you to study your habits and check your equipment.

Consider the clothes you wear. Are they comfortable? Do they wear ruffles, belts, or pockets that may catch on protruding objects? Dangling jewelry and high heels have caused accidents.

What about your electric equipment? Does it carry the Underwriters' Laboratories seal of approval? Do you check and care for your equipment as directed by the manufacturer?

Do you disconnect the electric appliances by pulling the plug, not the cord, from the outlet? Do you keep cords repaired? When you replace fuses, do you use the correct size?

The condition of your kitchen equipment and where you keep it are important for safety. Sharp knives and tools need safe storage places out of reach of small children. You need the right tool for the right job, not using a sharp knife instead of a can opener.

Make your kitchen safe for children. Keep pails or tubs of hot water off the floor. When cooking turn handles of utensils away from the front of the range or table so small hands can't upset them. If you spill food on the floor, wipe it up at once before someone slips on it.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. John C. Kulp
Former Minister
Hulmeville Methodist Church

O Thou in whose hand are the hearts of thy creatures, shed abroad thy peace upon the world. By the might of thy Holy Spirit quench the pride, and anger, and greediness which cause man to strive against man, and people against people. Lead all nations in the ways of mutual help and good will, and hasten the time when the earth shall confess thee indeed for its saviour and King, and no evil deeds of man shall defile thy creation. Remove from the world forever the dreadful menace of war. Guide the rulers with thy counsel, and restrain the passions of the people, so that bloodshed may be averted and peace be preserved. Bind the nations into a new bond of fellowship; and hasten the time when the kingdoms of this world shall become the kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

TWO BROTHERS AID JEFFERSON TO WIN OVER FIFTH WARD

The Ciambella brothers, John and Albert, proved the undoing of the Fifth Ward Sporting Club last evening on Memorial Park field as Jefferson A. C. won its fourth straight game of the Bristol Suburban Softball League. Final score was: Jefferson, 7; Fifth Ward, 1.

"Johnny" did the pitching and held Fifth Ward to four scattered safe hits. He would have had a shutout but for an error by Imperato and a double from the bat of Marvin Collins in the third inning. Albert was the big man with the stick as he cleaned the bases in the third inning with a home run. Ray Pierandozzi, "Vic" Cauti, and Harold Peitz had hit singles before Albert made his long drive to center field. That blow finished the Warders. Albert also aided his brother by singling in the fifth. He also drew a walk to have a perfect evening.

Heavy Liberators started on the hill for Fifth Ward and gave way to Peter Mancini in the fourth. Mancini, in the relief role, gave up two safe blows.

Lineups:	ab	r	h	e	a

ROHM & HAAS WINS OPENING GAME IN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Rohm & Haas team won its opening game of the Bristol Industrial Softball League with a 9-1 decision over the 3M's on the Maple Beach field. The losers were held to two hits by Ralph Cahall.

The Chemical mixers started off by getting a quintet of runs in the first on a single by Mulchmuck, a hit by Tranter, a two-bagger by Oriola and hits by Wallick, Hutchinson, and Steinbrunn. In the seventh, Steinbrunn cleared the bases with a two-bagger after Fisher had walked and both Wallick and Hutchinson hit safely.

The only marker by the 3M's was the result of a triple by Hinkle and a long fly by Addeo.

In games played thus far by the Industrial League, 3M's beat Hunter's, 9-2, Hunter-Wilson beat Fleetwing, 8-3, and Hunter-Wilson shut out Manhattan, 3-0.

Griff Buller, president of the circuit, has announced that beginning next week the circuit will be increased to eight with Leedom's and Seaboard Container being added to the loop.

Courses for Future Mothers

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THERE was a big crop of babies in 1949, a million more than in 1940. The total registered births last year was 3,581,000, compared with 2,360,399 in 1940.

Infant mortality in the United States dropped to an all-time low in 1948, when only 32 out of 1,000 babies died during the first year. Incomplete figures for 1949 indicate a further drop to 31 per 1,000.

See the progress that has been made. In 1940 the rate was 47 per 1,000; in 1930 it was 64.6. Presumably, there's a corresponding drop in death of mothers in connection with childbirth.

Care of Mothers

The biggest single factor in the lowering of infant and mother mortality has been through improved medical care of expectant mothers and increasing readiness of expectant mothers to seek this medical care. Widening the availability of adequate medical care to all expectant mothers, and their growing eagerness to seek such services have been furthered through popular literature and the efforts of the P.T.A. and other community-minded organizations. There is also an increase in courses for future mothers and fathers on child care and development in our junior and senior high schools.

To young expectant fathers:

As soon as you know or suspect your wife is pregnant seek medical care for her at once. If you just can't find enough money for this service, inquire of your pastor, priest or rabbi or of some other responsible person where you can obtain proper medical care at little or no cost. Most of you can find the money if you deny yourselves less important things. Sometimes the parents of the wife or husband can afford to help and are glad to do so, if they fully sense the importance of adequate medical care of the expectant mother.

Expectant Father

Often the expectant father does not as fully sense the need of early and continual medical care of the expectant mother as she does. Sometimes she hesitates to press the matter. He really should take the initiative. See what it would mean to his wife's morale and to their mutual happiness. Many a young expectant father who seems indifferent or neglectful merely has lacked sufficient education. He hasn't read columns, articles or books or attended parent meetings so often as his wife has. And he may have had nothing on the subject at school. Speed the day when he will. In the meanwhile men's service clubs could do much to spread enlightenment among young men.
